On Stage at the Abrons

The Art Show 2016, March 2-6

The Art Show – among New York City's most eagerly anticipated early spring events – returns this March, with a Gala Preview March 1, 2016. The Art Show continues at the Park Avenue Armory from March 2 – 6.

To purchase Gala Preview tickets, visit The Art Show online. Tickets to the full run of The Art Show will be available online later this month.

Established in 1989 to benefit Henry Street Settlement, the show immediately garnered considerable acclaim among collectors and critics and has continued to set the standards of excellence with its museum-quality exhibitions of Impressionist, Modern and Contemporary works. Today, it is the nation's longest-running fine art fair.

Get ID! IDNYC Pop-Up Enrollment Site at Henry Street

Henry Street's Job Plus office, 24 Avenue D (at East Third Street), served as a pop-up enrollment site for the IDNYC. At this location, Lower East Side residents had access the new program which issues New York City identification cards to anyone 14 years or older, regardless of immigration status.

The enrollment site opened with a press conference hosted by New York City Council Member Rosie Mendez, who said that the location of the new site is especially important to reach residents of the nearby public housing projects.

New Year, New Ramp For Seniors

The Good Companions Senior Center received the holiday gift they'd been hoping for- a brand new entrance ramp! The ramp was open for business at a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Friday, December 18.

"Providing a safe means of access to the seniors we serve is vital," said David Garza, Executive Director. "This new ramp accomplishes this, allowing seniors to safely enter the Center to enjoy the myriad of exciting programs and delicious meals offered there."
